

HOMOEOMORPHOUS

Meaning: Homoeomorphous refers to having a similar form or structure, particularly in the context of different minerals or crystals that exhibit comparable shapes despite differing compositions.

1. The concept of homoeomorphous structures is crucial in understanding the similarities among different mineral forms.
2. In the study of crystallography, homoeomorphous relationships can reveal important information about the formation processes of minerals.
3. The researchers highlighted the homoeomorphous nature of the two species, despite their differing chemical compositions.
4. Homoeomorphous patterns in biological systems can lead to significant insights into evolutionary processes.
5. Artists often draw inspiration from homoeomorphous shapes found in nature, blending forms from various sources into a cohesive piece.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/homoeomorphous>