

HOMOTYPAL

Meaning: Homotypal refers to structures or variations that are similar or identical in type or form, particularly within biological or genetic contexts.

1. The researchers found that the homotypal structures in the cells were crucial for understanding their function.
2. In genetics, homotypal variations can reveal insights into evolutionary processes among species.
3. The homotypal alignment of the proteins suggested a highly specific interaction necessary for the cellular response.
4. During the experiment, homotypal traits were observed to dominate the phenotypic outcomes in the population.
5. The study highlighted the significance of homotypal relationships in the development of complex organisms.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/homotypal>