

HUFF

Meaning: Huff (verb): to exhale audibly in a way that expresses annoyance or frustration.

1. She let out a huff of frustration after reading the misleading article.
2. The dog huffed in annoyance when I tried to take away his toy.
3. With a heavy huff, he settled into the chair, exhausted from the day's work.
4. When the train finally arrived, the crowd let out a collective huff of relief.
5. Her huff of disbelief made it clear she found the claim utterly ridiculous.
6. She let out a loud huff of frustration when she realized she had forgotten her keys.
7. After running up the hill, he stopped to catch his breath with a huff and a puff.
8. The child gave a dramatic huff before crossing her arms in defiance.
9. He huffed dismissively at the suggestion, clearly uninterested in the idea.
10. With a huff, she pulled the blanket over her head, refusing to face the chilly morning.
11. She took a deep huff of the fresh air before setting off on her hike.
12. After a long day at work, he let out a huff of frustration as he collapsed onto the couch.
13. The children huffed and puffed as they raced to the finish line, eager to win the game.
14. With a huff, she closed the book, dissatisfied with the ending.
15. He huffed into his hands to warm them up in the chilly morning breeze.