

HYDROBILIRUBIN

Meaning: Hydrobilirubin is a water-soluble form of bilirubin that can be detected in urine and is used as a diagnostic marker for liver conditions.

1. Hydrobilirubin is often used as a marker in diagnosing certain liver conditions.
2. The presence of hydrobilirubin in the urine can indicate an underlying health issue.
3. Doctors monitor hydrobilirubin levels to assess the severity of jaundice in patients.
4. Increased hydrobilirubin may suggest a breakdown of red blood cells or liver dysfunction.
5. Laboratory tests can accurately measure the concentration of hydrobilirubin in the bloodstream.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/hydrobilirubin>