

HYDROID

Meaning: Hydroid: a type of small, often colonial marine organism belonging to the class Hydrozoa, characterized by a polyp stage and typically found in coastal waters.

1. The hydroid I found in the tide pool was a fascinating example of marine life.
2. During our dive, we encountered a colorful hydroid swaying gently with the current.
3. Researchers are studying the unique properties of hydroids for potential biomedical applications.
4. The hydroid's delicate structure made it difficult to photograph without disturbing its environment.
5. In the world of marine biology, hydroids are often overlooked despite their intriguing characteristics.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/hydroid>