

HYPERCRITICALLY

Meaning: HYPERCRITICALLY: in a manner that is excessively or unreasonably critical, often focusing on minor flaws or shortcomings.

1. She examined the painting hypercritically, searching for even the slightest flaw in the artist's technique.
2. His hypercritical nature often made it difficult for him to enjoy movies, as he focused only on their shortcomings.
3. During the debate, she hypercritically scrutinized every argument, leaving no room for error.
4. The reviewer approached the novel hypercritically, noting inconsistencies that most readers would overlook.
5. In her hypercritical analysis of the study, she raised questions that challenged the validity of its conclusions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/hypercritically>