

HYPERPLASTIC

Meaning: Hyperplastic refers to tissues that show excessive growth or proliferation, often in a medical context.

1. The term 'hyperplastic' is often used in medical literature to describe tissues that exhibit excessive growth.
2. In some cases, hyperplastic lesions can be mistaken for malignant tumors during initial examinations.
3. The hyperplastic response of the tissue was evident under microscopic analysis, showing an increase in cell numbers.
4. Researchers are studying the implications of hyperplastic changes in the context of chronic inflammation.
5. Hyperplastic conditions can lead to complications if not monitored and treated appropriately.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/hyperplastic>