

IDOLIZE

Meaning: To idolize means to admire or revere someone greatly, often to the point of viewing them as a role model or hero.

1. Many young athletes idolize professional sports stars, dreaming of achieving similar success.
2. She was so inspired by the singer's talent that she began to idolize her from a young age.
3. Parents often worry that their children might idolize celebrities without understanding their flaws.
4. The artist's ability to connect with his audience made them idolize him even more.
5. In her youth, she would idolize her teachers, hoping to follow in their footsteps.
6. Many teenagers idolize pop stars and dream of achieving similar fame.
7. She tends to idolize her older brother, believing he can do no wrong.
8. It's important to recognize that idolizing someone can lead to unrealistic expectations.
9. In the world of sports, countless fans idolize their favorite athletes for their achievements.
10. He didn't just admire the artist; he truly idolized her for her creativity and passion.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/idolize>