IGNORAMUS

Meaning: Ignoramus: a person who is ignorant or lacks knowledge, often to a degree that is evident or embarrassing.

1. The politician's blatant disregard for the facts made him look like an ignoramus in front of the audience.

2. During the debate, it became clear that his opponent was an ignoramus when he couldn't answer basic questions.

3. She felt embarrassed to be associated with such an ignoramus who could not grasp simple concepts.

4. His constant mistakes and misunderstandings marked him as an ignoramus among his peers.

5. Even though he acted confidently, everyone knew he was just an ignoramus pretending to be knowledgeable.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/ignoramus