

IMBOWER

Meaning: To imbower means to shelter or enclose in a protective or comforting manner, often with foliage or flowers.

1. The birds would often imbower themselves in the lush branches of the old oak tree.
2. As the sun set, the garden seemed to imbower the couple in a cozy embrace of fragrant blossoms.
3. The ivy began to imbower the stone wall, creating a beautiful, natural tapestry.
4. In the quietude of the forest, the ferns and moss imbowered the ancient ruins, adding to their mystery.
5. She found a secluded spot by the river where the willows imbowered her, shielding her from the world.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/imbower>