

IMPERCIPIENT

Meaning: Impercipient refers to being unaware or lacking perception, especially in understanding or recognizing important details or changes.

1. The impercipient nature of his understanding left him bewildered in discussions about complex theories.
2. Despite the impercipient signs of change in the environment, many remained oblivious to the impending crisis.
3. Her impercipient attitude towards the subtle cues in social interactions often led to misunderstandings.
4. The impercipient details of the painting revealed themselves only upon closer inspection.
5. In a world filled with noise, it's easy for the impercipient truths to go unnoticed.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impercipient>