

IMPERSUADABLE

Meaning: IMPERSUADABLE: Adjective describing a person who cannot be convinced or influenced to change their opinion or decision.

1. Her impersuadable nature made it difficult for anyone to change her mind once it was made up.
2. Despite the numerous arguments presented, he remained impersuadable, unwavering in his beliefs.
3. The committee found it challenging to negotiate with their impersuadable leader, who had a fixed vision for the project.
4. Even after extensive discussions, she proved to be impersuadable, sticking firmly to her original stance.
5. His impersuadable conviction in the truth of his claims left little room for compromise.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impersuadable>