

IMPEST

Meaning: To impest means to cause widespread trouble, damage, or suffering, often in the context of a natural disaster or disease.

1. The sudden storm began to impest the peaceful village, causing chaos and destruction everywhere.
2. As the disease continued to impest the crops, farmers grew increasingly desperate for a solution.
3. The invasive species started to impest the local ecosystem, threatening the native wildlife.
4. Her negative attitude seemed to impest the team's morale, making it difficult for them to focus.
5. The relentless rumors began to impest the community, creating suspicion and distrust among neighbors.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impest>