

IMPLIABLE

Meaning: Impliable: incapable of being influenced or changed; inflexible or unyielding.

1. Her resolute nature made her an impliable force in negotiations, refusing to yield to any pressure.
2. The impliable stance of the committee members led to a stalemate in the discussions.
3. Despite the changing circumstances, his impliable beliefs remained steadfast against any form of compromise.
4. The law was designed to be impliable, ensuring that all interpretations were clear and consistent.
5. In a world of constant change, her impliable dedication to her principles inspired those around her.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impliable>