

IMPLICATION

Meaning: Implication: a suggestion or consequence that is inferred or understood, often indicating a deeper meaning or significance.

1. The implication of her words was clear, suggesting a deeper meaning behind her smile.
2. His study revealed the serious implications of climate change on global food security.
3. She understood the social implications of her decision to move to a new city.
4. The implication of their findings could revolutionize the way we approach renewable energy.
5. He was careful with his comments, aware of the potential implications they might have on his reputation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/implication>