

IMPOLITICAL

Meaning: Impolitical refers to a lack of political awareness or sensitivity, often resulting in actions or remarks that are deemed inappropriate or unwise in a political context.

1. Her decision to remain neutral during the heated debate was considered impolitical by many of her peers.
2. The ambassador's impolitical remarks during the press conference raised eyebrows among the journalists present.
3. In an impolitical move, he chose to publicly criticize both parties, alienating himself from potential allies.
4. Her impolitical approach to the campaign focused solely on community service rather than party politics.
5. Some argue that being impolitical can be a strength, as it allows for more genuine connections with constituents.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impolitical>