

IMPOSE

Meaning: To impose means to establish or enforce something, such as rules or beliefs, upon others, often without their consent.

1. The government decided to impose stricter regulations on air pollution to protect public health.
2. She didn't want to impose her beliefs on others, respecting their right to choose.
3. The teacher will impose a deadline for the project to ensure that all students submit their work on time.
4. To maintain order, the manager had to impose certain rules for the team to follow during the event.
5. It's important to recognize when you're imposing on someone else's time and space.
6. The government decided to impose stricter regulations on air quality to combat pollution.
7. It can be challenging to impose your own beliefs on those who hold different values.
8. Teachers should not impose excessive workloads on students during exam periods.
9. To create a peaceful environment, we must not impose our opinions on others without listening first.
10. When planning the event, we must not impose our preferences on the attendees' choices.
11. During the meeting, she felt it was necessary to impose her views on the group to guide the discussion.
12. The teacher warned that he would impose penalties for late assignments to encourage timely submissions.
13. To maintain order at the event, the organizers had to impose a strict code of conduct on all attendees.
14. In an effort to enhance productivity, the manager decided to impose a new set of guidelines for the team.
15. The government decided to impose stricter regulations on pollution to protect the environment.
16. She felt it was unfair to impose her beliefs on her friends during the discussion.
17. The teacher will impose a deadline for the project submission next week.

18. In times of crisis, leaders may impose emergency measures to ensure public safety.
19. It is essential to impose limits on screen time for children to encourage healthier habits.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impose>