

IMPOST

Meaning: Impost: a person who pretends to be someone else or assumes a false identity, often to deceive others.

1. The detective quickly realized that the charming gentleman was an impost in the social circle.
2. During the annual masquerade, she chose to dress as an impost, hiding her true identity behind an elaborate mask.
3. It became clear that the impost had been living a lie, deceiving everyone with his fabricated stories.
4. In literature, the theme of the impost often serves as a catalyst for conflict and resolution.
5. The impost was finally exposed when his inconsistencies started to unravel before the gathered crowd.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impost>