

IMPRECATORY

Meaning: IMPRECATORY: expressing a curse or invoking misfortune upon someone.

1. The old woman muttered an imprecatory chant under her breath, invoking misfortune upon those who wronged her.
2. His imprecatory words echoed through the hall, leaving an unsettling silence in their wake.
3. In literature, characters often resort to imprecatory prayers when seeking vengeance against their enemies.
4. The poet's imprecatory verses captured the raw emotion of betrayal and despair.
5. During the heated debate, one politician's imprecatory remarks drew sharp criticism from his opponents.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/imprecatory>