

IMPREPARATION

Meaning: Impreparation refers to the condition of being unprepared or lacking necessary readiness for a task or event.

1. The team's lack of preparation was evident in their poor performance during the game, highlighting their state of impreparation.
2. His sudden illness left them in a state of impreparation, scrambling to find a replacement for the presentation.
3. The impreparation of the event organizers became clear when they failed to account for the expected number of attendees.
4. Despite the imminent deadline, her impreparation led to a chaotic morning filled with last-minute tasks.
5. They approached the exam with a sense of impreparation, realizing too late that they hadn't studied adequately.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impreparation>