

IMPUGN

Meaning: To impugn means to challenge or dispute the truth or validity of something, especially someone's credibility or authority.

1. The lawyer aimed to impugn the credibility of the witness during the trial.
2. Despite the overwhelming evidence, the defendant's attorney sought to impugn the findings of the investigation.
3. It is important to impugn any claims that lack sufficient proof or support.
4. The politician's opponents tried to impugn her integrity with unfounded rumors.
5. He felt it was unfair to impugn her motives without understanding her perspective.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/impugn>