

IMPUTABLENESS

Meaning: Imputableness refers to the quality of being accountable or responsible for one's actions, particularly in moral or legal contexts.

1. The concept of imputableness is crucial in discussions of moral responsibility.
2. In legal contexts, imputableness can determine the extent of a defendant's culpability.
3. Her accusatory tone suggested a belief in his imputableness for the team's failure.
4. Philosophers often debate the implications of imputableness in relation to free will.
5. The judge emphasized the importance of assessing each individual's imputableness before passing sentence.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/imputableness>