

INCONVERTIBLENESS

Meaning: Inconvertibleness refers to the quality of being unchangeable or incapable of being converted or altered, particularly in relation to beliefs or principles.

1. The inconvertibleness of her beliefs made it difficult for her to compromise in discussions.
2. Philosophers often debate the inconvertibleness of certain moral truths across cultures.
3. His inconvertibleness regarding the issue frustrated his colleagues, who sought a more flexible approach.
4. The inconvertibleness of the evidence presented in court ultimately swayed the jury's verdict.
5. Inconvertibleness in values can lead to rigid thinking and hinder personal growth.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/inconvertibleness>