

INDETERMINABLE

Meaning: Indeterminable refers to something that cannot be definitively determined or resolved.

1. The outcome of the experiment remained indeterminable despite extensive analysis.
2. In the realm of philosophy, some questions are considered indeterminable and provoke endless debate.
3. The weather forecast was indeterminable, leaving everyone uncertain about their weekend plans.
4. Her feelings towards the situation were indeterminable, a mix of confusion and hope.
5. The future of the project seemed indeterminable, depending on various external factors.
6. The outcome of the experiment remained indeterminable despite numerous trials.
7. Her feelings about the situation were indeterminable, shifting from hope to despair.
8. The committee faced an indeterminable number of potential solutions to the problem.
9. In quantum physics, certain properties of particles can be indeterminable until measured.
10. His motives for leaving were indeterminable, leaving everyone questioning his decisions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/indeterminable>