

INDUCEMENT

Meaning: Inducement refers to a thing that persuades or influences someone to take a particular action, often involving a reward or incentive.

1. The company offered a financial inducement to attract top talent.
2. Her generous donation served as an inducement for others to contribute to the cause.
3. The promise of a promotion acted as a strong inducement for him to work harder.
4. To encourage participation, the event organizers provided various inducements for attendees.
5. The government introduced tax breaks as an inducement for businesses to invest in renewable energy.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/inducement>