

INFATUATION

Meaning: Infatuation is an intense but short-lived passion or admiration for someone, often characterized by idealization and a lack of rational perspective.

1. Her infatuation with the charming musician lasted only a few weeks before reality set in.
2. He realized that his infatuation was clouding his judgment and making him overlook important qualities in a partner.
3. The intensity of her infatuation was evident in the way she spoke about him, her eyes sparkling with excitement.
4. Despite their age difference, his infatuation for her was so strong that he was willing to overlook the opinions of others.
5. Infatuation can often feel like love, but it usually lacks the depth and stability that true affection brings.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/infatuation>