

INFEOFF

Meaning: Infioff: (verb) to annul or invalidate a legal agreement or policy, often through a specific clause or provision.

1. The lawyer argued that the contract was invalid due to the infioff clause included in the fine print.
2. After much debate, the board decided to infioff the current policy in favor of a more progressive approach.
3. In legal terms, to infioff means to nullify a previous agreement or condition under specific circumstances.
4. The team was surprised to learn that the infioff of their previous decision would take effect immediately.
5. During the negotiation, they agreed to infioff any clauses that could lead to misunderstandings later on.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/infeoff>