

INHABITABLE

Meaning: Inhabitable refers to a place that is unsuitable for living or unable to support human life.

1. The scientists concluded that the planet was inhospitable and therefore uninhabitable for human life.
2. After the disaster, the once-thriving town became completely uninhabitable due to contamination.
3. New technologies are being developed to make previously inhospitable regions more inhabitable for future generations.
4. The harsh climate and lack of resources rendered the area uninhabitable for most species.
5. Efforts to rehabilitate the environment may eventually make the previously uninhabitable land suitable for agriculture.
6. The abandoned town was deemed uninhabitable due to the extensive damage from the storm.
7. Scientists are concerned that climate change could make certain regions uninhabitable for future generations.
8. After the nuclear accident, the area surrounding the plant was declared uninhabitable for decades.
9. The harsh winter conditions rendered the mountain village nearly uninhabitable for most of the year.
10. Local authorities are working to improve living conditions in areas that have become uninhabitable.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/inhabitable>