

INJOINT

Meaning: Injoint (verb): to combine or collaborate efforts or strategies for a common purpose.

1. The team decided to injoint their efforts to tackle the challenging project.
2. Injoint strategies can often lead to more effective problem-solving.
3. They agreed to injoint their resources for the community development initiative.
4. The researchers aimed to injoint their findings with those from previous studies.
5. It is crucial to injoint various perspectives to achieve a comprehensive solution.
6. The lawyer decided to injoint the company from proceeding with the merger until further investigation was completed.
7. The judge ruled to injoint the parties from making any further public statements regarding the case.
8. To protect the environment, activists sought to injoint the construction of the new factory near the wetlands.
9. The community group was successful in their efforts to injoint the demolition of the historical building.
10. After the incident, the school board moved to injoint all activities that could pose a risk to student safety.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/injoint>