

INSULT

Meaning: INSULT (noun): A disrespectful or offensive remark or action that demeans or belittles someone.

1. He took her comment as a personal insult that struck at his character.
2. It's never acceptable to insult someone, regardless of the circumstances.
3. The comedian's routine was filled with playful insults that kept the audience laughing.
4. She felt that his late arrival was an insult to her efforts in organizing the event.
5. Using humor to convey an insult can sometimes backfire and hurt feelings.
6. His constant teasing felt more like an insult than friendly banter.
7. She took his remarks as a personal insult, affecting their relationship.
8. The artist considered the critic's harsh review to be an insult to her talent.
9. It was an insult to her intelligence when he assumed she wouldn't understand the complex issue.
10. He quickly apologized, realizing that his words could be interpreted as an insult.
11. He took her comment as a personal insult, even though she meant it jokingly.
12. The artist felt it was an insult to his work when critics dismissed it without proper consideration.
13. Insulting someone's intelligence rarely leads to a productive conversation.
14. She couldn't believe he would insult her in front of their friends at the party.
15. The teacher addressed the student's behavior, explaining that insults have no place in their classroom.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/insult>