INTERCUR

Meaning: To intercur means to interact or engage with one another, particularly in a way that leads to the sharing or blending of ideas, traditions, or findings.

1. The two cultures began to intercur, sharing traditions and customs that enriched both societies.
2. As the scientists collaborated, they found ways to intercur their research findings for a greater impact.
3. In the marketplace, various groups would intercur, trading goods and ideas that fostered innovation.
4. The diplomats aimed to intercur their interests to achieve a lasting peace agreement.
5. Artisans from different regions would often intercur, blending their techniques to create unique pieces.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/intercur