

INTERJECTIONALIZE

Meaning: To interjectionalize means to incorporate interjections into writing or speech to enhance emotional expression and create a more engaging, conversational tone.

1. To fully grasp the nuances of emotion in writing, one must learn to interjectionalize their prose effectively.
2. The poet decided to interjectionalize the conversational tone of her verses to better connect with her readers.
3. When teaching grammar, it can be helpful to interjectionalize examples to demonstrate the impact of emotional expression.
4. In her speech, she chose to interjectionalize her main points, adding emphasis and excitement to her delivery.
5. The novelist aimed to interjectionalize the dialogue to reflect the characters' genuine feelings in a more relatable way.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/interjectionalize>