

INTERPOSER

Meaning: Interposer: a person who intervenes or mediates between opposing parties or viewpoints.

1. The artist served as an interposer between the conflicting viewpoints of the two communities.
2. In the debate, she acted as an interposer, ensuring that both sides had the opportunity to express their opinions.
3. The interposer in the negotiation helped to facilitate a more productive dialogue between the parties involved.
4. His role as an interposer allowed him to navigate the complexities of the situation with ease.
5. As an interposer, she bridged the gap between the technical experts and the laypeople, making the information accessible.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/interposer>