

INTERPELLENT

Meaning: INTERPELLENT: A substance or property that deters or repels organisms, such as pests or herbivores, to protect plants or environments.

1. The interpellent properties of the new formula effectively deter pests from invading the garden.
2. Researchers discovered that certain plant species produce interpellent compounds to protect themselves from herbivores.
3. In trials, the interpellent mechanism was shown to significantly reduce the number of insects on treated crops.
4. Understanding interpellent interactions between species can provide insights into natural pest control methods.
5. Farmers are increasingly interested in interpellent strategies as a sustainable alternative to chemical pesticides.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/interpellent>