

INTORSION

Meaning: Intorsion refers to the twisting or rotational movement of an organ or structure, particularly in the context of the eye or during the developmental processes of certain organisms.

1. Intorsion of the eye can lead to distorted vision and difficulty focusing.
2. In biology, intorsion is a process that involves twisting during the development of certain organisms.
3. The surgeon explained that intorsion of the foot can result in significant discomfort and mobility issues.
4. During the dance routine, the performer executed a flawless intorsion that captivated the audience.
5. The study of intorsion in plants reveals fascinating adaptations to their environment.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/intorsion>