

INTRALOBULAR

Meaning: Intralobular refers to structures or components located within a lobule, particularly in the context of organs or tissues, such as ducts or lymphatic vessels.

1. The researcher focused on the intralobular ducts of the pancreas to understand their role in enzyme secretion.
2. Intralobular lymphatic vessels are essential for maintaining fluid balance within the tissue microenvironment.
3. She noted that the intralobular architecture of the gland was crucial for its overall function and efficiency.
4. The study highlighted the importance of intralobular connections in the communication between neighboring cells.
5. Intralobular pressure changes can significantly affect the secretion dynamics in exocrine glands.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/intralobular>