

INVENDIBILITY

Meaning: Invendibility refers to the quality of being unownable or not subject to ownership, particularly in relation to ideas or inventions.

1. The concept of invendibility suggests that certain ideas or inventions cannot be owned by any individual.
2. In a world driven by innovation, the invendibility of fundamental scientific principles is often debated.
3. The artist's work was celebrated for its invendibility, as it transcended commercial interests and remained unique.
4. Legal experts discussed the implications of invendibility in the context of intellectual property rights.
5. Many believe that the invendibility of nature's beauty should inspire protection rather than exploitation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/invendibility>