

IRRECLAIMABLE

Meaning: Irreclaimable refers to something that cannot be restored or recovered to its original condition or usefulness.

1. The environmental damage caused by the oil spill left the land irreclaimable for future generations.
2. After years of neglect, the once-thriving community became irreclaimable, with buildings falling into ruin.
3. The decision to exploit the natural resources without regard for sustainability rendered the ecosystem irreclaimable.
4. Her lost trust after the betrayal felt irreclaimable, no matter how many apologies were offered.
5. The ancient ruins, while beautiful, were irreclaimable, as time had eroded their features beyond repair.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/irreclaimable>