

IRRECUSABLE

Meaning: Irrecusable means impossible to reject or refuse; compelling and undeniable.

1. The evidence presented in court was irrecusable, leaving the jury with no choice but to convict.
2. Her argument was so compelling that it felt irrecusable, compelling even the most skeptical members of the audience.
3. In negotiations, the offer was deemed irrecusable, ensuring the other party couldn't refuse without serious consequences.
4. The urgency of the situation made his plea irrecusable, prompting immediate action from the board.
5. Once the benefits were laid out, the proposal became irrecusable, attracting unanimous support from the committee.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/irrecusable>