

IRREMEDIABLY

Meaning: IRREMEDIABLY: in a way that is impossible to remedy, correct, or restore.

1. The damage to the environment was irretrievably altered, leaving future generations to deal with the consequences.
2. After years of neglect, the relationship had become irretrievably broken, making reconciliation impossible.
3. Her trust in him was irreparably shattered after the revelation of his betrayal.
4. Once the evidence was tampered with, the case became irretrievably compromised in the eyes of the law.
5. He realized that some mistakes could change the course of his life irretrievably, leaving him to ponder what could have been.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/irremediably>