

IRREMUNERABLE

Meaning: Irremunerable refers to efforts or contributions that cannot be compensated or rewarded financially.

1. Her dedication to the community was irremunerable, as she sought no financial gain for her countless hours of volunteer work.
2. The artist created irremunerable pieces that spoke to the soul, leaving a lasting impact despite not selling for high prices.
3. In a world driven by profit, the irremunerable acts of kindness often go unnoticed but are essential for a compassionate society.
4. His irremunerable contributions to the research project were invaluable, shaping the direction of future studies.
5. The love and support she provided during tough times felt irremunerable, transcending any material compensation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/irremunerable>