

IRREPROVABLE

Meaning: Irreproachable means incapable of being criticized or deserving of blame; faultless.

1. Her conduct during the investigation was irreproachable, setting a standard for others to follow.
2. The professor's arguments were so well-supported that they seemed irreproachable to the committee.
3. In a world full of criticism, he maintained an irreproachable reputation for honesty and integrity.
4. Despite the challenges, her decisions remained irreproachable, earning her the trust of her colleagues.
5. The team's performance was irreproachable, leading to their undeniable success in the competition.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/irreprovable>