

IRRUBRICAL

Meaning: Irrubrical refers to a state or condition characterized by a lack of redness or a deficiency of healthy circulation, often associated with pallor or muted colors.

1. The doctor noted the irrubrical condition of the patient's skin, indicating a lack of proper circulation.
2. In her painting, she captured the irrubrical hues of the sunset, evoking a deep sense of tranquility.
3. The scientist explained that irrubrical effects in plant leaves could indicate a deficiency in nutrients.
4. His description of the irrubrical landscape hinted at a hidden beauty often overlooked by passersby.
5. The study focused on irrubrical areas of the brain, aiming to understand their role in emotional processing.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/irrubrical>