

ITCH

Meaning: ITCH (noun): A sensation on the skin that causes a desire to scratch, often resulting from irritation or an allergic reaction.

1. The mosquito bite left an unbearable itch on my arm.
2. After spending the day in the woods, I couldn't shake the itch that crept up my back.
3. She scratched her head, trying to relieve the itch that had been bothering her for hours.
4. His new wool sweater caused an unexpected itch, prompting him to change into a cotton T-shirt.
5. The cream worked wonders, soothing the itch that had plagued her for days.
6. The mosquito bite left her with an unbearable itch that made it difficult to concentrate.
7. He tried to ignore the itch in his throat, but it grew more persistent with each passing minute.
8. After spending hours in the garden, she found an itch on her arm that turned into a rash.
9. The new sweater was beautiful, but it gave him an itch that he couldn't shake off.
10. She felt an itch of curiosity as she watched the mysterious figure disappear into the shadows.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/itch>