

JANGLE

Meaning: JANGLE: to produce a discordant or ringing sound, often associated with the clinking of metal objects, or to feel a sense of anxiety or nervousness.

1. The sound of the keys jangle in her pocket as she walks down the street.
2. His nerves began to jangle as he waited for the interview to start.
3. The constant jangle of the wind chimes made it difficult to concentrate on her reading.
4. With every step, the jangle of the dog's collar echoed in the quiet park.
5. The jangle of coins in the jar signaled the end of their small savings for the trip.
6. The sound of the keys jangled in her pocket as she hurried to the door.
7. The constant jangle of the wind chimes outside made it hard to concentrate.
8. As the children played, their laughter seemed to jangle with the clinking of their toys.
9. The jangle of the telephone interrupted her train of thought, pulling her back to reality.
10. The sound of keys jangle as she hurriedly rushes out the door.
11. His nerves began to jangle when he realized he was late for the meeting.
12. The bells on the door jangle every time a customer enters the shop.
13. As the train approached, the metal wheels began to jangle against the tracks.
14. Her laughter seemed to jangle in harmony with the wind chimes hanging outside.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/jangle>