

LACHRYMAL

Meaning: Lachrymal: relating to the production of tears or the glands that produce them.

1. The doctor explained that the lachrymal glands are responsible for producing tears.
2. She felt a lachrymal emotion wash over her as she watched the heartfelt movie.
3. The artist captured the lachrymal beauty of the scene in his painting.
4. After the intense argument, his eyes glistened with lachrymal droplets of sorrow.
5. Lachrymal ducts can sometimes become blocked, leading to excessive tearing.
6. During the emotional scene in the film, her lachrymal response was both genuine and touching.
7. The examination revealed an issue with his lachrymal duct that required further attention.
8. In ancient cultures, tears were often considered a symbol of the soul's lachrymal expression.
9. She quickly dabbed her eyes, trying to control the lachrymal overflow that accompanied her sadness.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/lachrymal>