

LACHRYMATE

Meaning: LACHRYMATE (verb): to cause to shed tears or to evoke strong emotions that lead to crying.

1. The movie was so poignant that it left the audience feeling lachrymated by the end.
2. Her lachrymating gaze spoke volumes about her sorrow and longing.
3. As the final notes of the song played, I found myself lachrymating in remembrance of lost friends.
4. The lachrymating scene in the novel captured the depth of human emotion beautifully.
5. It's hard to watch a lachrymated child without feeling a surge of compassion.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/lachrymate>