

LACHRYMATORY

Meaning: Lachrymatory refers to something that causes tears or is designed to induce tears, particularly in the context of substances like onions or tear gas.

1. The lachrymatory effects of the onion made her eyes water uncontrollably.
2. During the protest, the police deployed lachrymatory gas to disperse the crowd.
3. His lachrymatory performance moved the audience to tears, leaving a lasting impact on everyone present.
4. The film featured a lachrymatory scene that beautifully captured the pain of loss.
5. She found the lachrymatory novel difficult to read without getting emotional.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/lachrymatory>