

LAMENTINGLY

Meaning: LAMENTINGLY (adverb): in a manner expressing sorrow or regret, often over something lost or missed.

1. She spoke lamentingly about the lost opportunities of her youth.
2. The children gazed lamentingly at the empty playground, longing for their carefree days.
3. He sat lamentingly by the window, reminiscing about the friends he had lost over the years.
4. The singer's voice carried a lamentingly haunting quality, evoking deep emotions in the audience.
5. As the storm raged outside, she lamentingly recalled the peaceful days of summer.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/lamentingly>