

LANGUOR

Meaning: Languor refers to a state of relaxed fatigue or weakness, often characterized by a pleasant lethargy or a dreamy, listless feeling.

1. The languor of the summer afternoon made it difficult to concentrate on anything productive.
2. She felt a sense of languor wash over her as she lounged by the pool, soaking up the sun.
3. His voice dripped with languor, making even the most mundane stories seem enchanting.
4. As the languor settled in, the once lively gathering transformed into a quiet, sleepy affair.
5. The languor of the lazy weekend was a welcome break from her hectic work schedule.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/languor>